Scientific, 1917, or the Press Pattinging Co., "The New York Evening World." PTER this war there will be a great advance in athletic sports and a new period of record breaking This is sure to come when millions of men who would normally have been engaged in ordinary busihess affairs are given months or feors of hard training flome of there will take up athletic sports and others will be more interested in all sorts of warlike sports, like football and boxing, and witi develop and encourage this interest in their fam-

There will be thousands of new boxers in the country after the war. Some of them will no doubt rank among the champions. And after the splendid results of training a million men in boxing during the war the State that doesn't encourage boxing as a sport after the war is going to be regarded as a back number, and the public official who wants boxing obliterated will be voted a member of the dodo class. To-day in half a hundred great camps there are thousands of men being taught how to box. There will be company, regimental, batfallon and brigade championships at every boxing weight. There will be more glove fighting in the next year than there has been in the past hundred years all over the world.

And we are not the only people The boxing scheme as a part of milttary training was perfected by Capt. Tom Flanagan of the Canadian troops. His system was later adopted for all pared to the marvellous engines that British troops, both in training camps drive the war planes! and at the front

Among the men who carned their "B" in football at Brown University this fall was Walter Hoving of No. 125 West 122d Street, this city. He learned the game at De Witt Clinton High School and has turned out to be one of the most dependable centre rushes developed at Brown in several years. Accuracy in passing has been a decided feature of his play. The "B" was awarded this year to all men who played one half in either the Colgate or Dartmouth game.

Later on Maxwell fell into a putling sisting while playing against Rockwell. The later plays left handed and gois time length with his wood, but putts indifferently. Maxwell had to win the home hole to square the match, and then Rockwell made the other's task comparatively enay by lashing the extra hole. Neither man scored well.

It was different with Reekle, who was on his game all day. For a starter, he defeated P. A. Both made the round in 78. It the afternoon Spindler could not cope with McClupre's leadly short game.

Forrest, playing with confidence, won handily in the morning over E. M. Hirschberg of Powelton, but later on his club mate, W. H. Davis, gavenim a good match. Davis, with his short swing, is hitting a longer ball than ever, but his mashie shots are create. Even so, he carried Forrest to the seventeenth green.

In the second sixteen Henry Allsopp, a Beltuerol veteran, won two matches. He has been off his game of late and does not think much of his chaptes though if he should go through it would prove costly, as he made a small wager last night that he would not reach the final.

The match in the lower bracket of the third sixteen this afternoon between Harry Suydam and L. J. Gellagher, a home pair, had a peculiar ending. They reached the home green all square and Suydam laid his opponent a stymic. In trying to get by Gallagher lost by knocking Suydam's ball into the hole.
